bill passed to construct a sewer in square 514 had become a law by being passed over the Mayor's head, and he did not doem it the Mayor's perogative to send the bill back a second time.

ment. Referred.

Also, the request of Isaac Childs, that he be permitted to remore clay from R street couth. Referred.

Mr. Noyes presented bills for improving gutters, streets, &c., in the Seventh ward, and one for the erection of a bridge on Sixth street west. Referred. Mr. James J. Campbell as commissioner of the Fourth ward, and asked a vote on the confirmation.

Mr. Elvans said he did not believe that Mr. Campbell was a loyal man, and in sympathy with the dovernment. He had in his possession sworn statements from persons, who state that Mr. O. received at one time $30, and at another $25, for the purpose of getting sewer trap contracts, approval of bills, &c. There were also statements that Mr. C. was a deserter. Mr. Elvans read a note, signed by H. S. Davis, saying that Mr. C. was drafted on the ith or 5th of March, 1855, and that he gave him an order for $300, and Mr. C. left the city as a deserter, and was brought back by detectives for punishment, which was avoided only by the close of the rebedilion. No such man as this should be honored with a position of profit.

Mr. Moore read several tetters from A. L. Hutton to Mr. Campbell, to show that it was not Mr. C. who had proposed fraud.

The 38th rule was, on motion, surpended, and Mr. Campbell was rejected:

Yeas_Messrs. Given, Lloyd, Moors, Noyes and Turton—5.

Nayr.—Messrs. Elvans, Grinder, Larman, McCathran gave notice that he would move a reconsideration of the last vote taken at the next meeting.

Mr. Moors reported unfavorably on the confirmation of Mr. John W. Dyer as commissioner of the First ward.

Mr. Tarton said be had haid off week after week hoping Mr. Dyer would armse up and attend to his duties and give satisfaction to the people, but all in vain.

The 38th rule was suspended, and the year Referred.

Mr. Barr submitted a resolution, to inquire of Gan. Michler, whether or not he would auspend the exection of the temporary bridge over the canal at Sixth street west, that a more substantial structure might be put there by the city authorities. Referred.

Mr. Elvans offered a petition to grant to D. J. Hills actain varieties. Mr. Elvans offered a petition to grant to D. J.
Hills certain privileges. Referred.
The special order—the bill in relation to hackney carriages—was, on motion of Mr. Richards, postponed to be considered one week hence.
Mr. Elvans offered a preamble and resolutions, canauring Mr. Wm. Forsyth, superintendent of swers, and public buildings, for not making returns, as required by law, to the two Boards, and inquiring whether or not Mr. Forsyth is legal officer.
Mr. Rivans wanted to know if Mr. Forsyth was acting under any color of law whatever, and would ask an immediate vote.
Mr. Moore contended that Mr. Forsyth had been a faithful officer, and that the practice of rendering quarterly or yearly reports to the councils, had long since become obsolete, and it should not now be enforced in 90 summary a manner.
Mr. Elvans said that in the ingreeties of

Mr. furion sate he had haid off week after week hoping Mr. Dyer would arouse up and attend to his duties and give satisfaction to the people, but all in vain.

The 32th rule was suspended, and the year and nays were taken.

Mr. Dyer was rejected:
Yeas.—Mr. Lloyd.

Mr. Moore here reported adversely the bill defining the qualifications of certain employees of the corporation, each member of the committee submitting his opinion on the subject in writing.

Mr. Moore read the following:
The Committee on Improvements, to which was referred the bill entitled "An not defining the qualifications of the amployees of the corporation," having been unable to agree in opinion, respectfully report the bill back to the Board, that it may receive such consideration and disportition as the wisdom of the Board may deem just or expedient.

One member of the committee, who is the author of the bill, urges its passage in its present form; another member favors the essential provisions of the first and second sections; and the remaining member (the undereigned) cannot perfect the propriety of any legislation in the unanner proposed on the several subjects embraced in the bill.

The first section provides that hereafter "all contracts and all work of every description for or in any way connected with the city of Washington, shall be open to competition to any citizen of the United States, without any distinction on account of race or color, and that it shall be the duty of the Mayor and of any subordinate officer of the said city to make the fact known in all proposals for work or contracts, by an appropriate clause in the notize of publication inviting bids.

The second section provides that in the employment of workmen by any ountractor or employment of workmen by tracts, by an appropriate clause in the notice of publication inviting bids."

The second section provides that in the employment of workmen by any contractor or employee of the city of Washington there shall not be any discrimination on account of race or color, or because of political or party sentiments, and that it shall be the duty of the Mayor, or any other different being into dentracts or engaging persons to perform work for the said city, to insert a chance or stipulation in every contract or engagement by which the contractor or employee shall be obligated to employwarkmen in accordance with the design, meaning, and intent of this section, and rendering the contract or engagement void if such clause or stipulation should at any time appear to the Mayor. Board of Aldermen, and Board of Common Council, or a majority of them, to have been disregarded, or directly or indirectly violated.

The remaining sections exclude from the benethe interests of the national government. The other papers were loyal, and should have the preference.

Mr. Moore did not deem it expedient to extend the publication of ordinances, Ac., to other papers. It was unnecessary. He referred to the ince that the proceedings of the New York city councils were only published in three papers, and there even the names of the members did not appear, as they do here in column after column. The National Intelligence, he said, was taken by more tax-payers than wise any other paper. There was no need to change. If any other single paper had them, he would not ask a change the paper had them, he would not ask a change there ever was in this country a more loyal paper than is the National Intelligence. Only a few days since a paper ascreted that the President was a drunkard and a disloyal man—he who is the government. He never saw anything more malignant than this; and yet they were called on to indorse all this.

Mr. Elvans suggested that his friend (Mr. Moore) be more consistent. One parity wanted to stop the Intelligence because it was opposed to Congress, and the other to stop other papers because they were obnoxious to the Freedent. Now, to see if this was a partisan measure, let the bill be recommitted, and we if the committed will report in favor of the Reputations. Mr. Moore said that, before Mr. Lincoln died overy one who had not full faith in the President was a traitor. In had no faith in the President was a traitor, now every one who had not faith in politicians. The National Intelligencer fought the quantity of the committed of the papers was a traitor. He had no faith in politicians. The National Intelligencer fought the quantity of the condition of discloyally and treason when the Chemicle and New York Tribune were endeavering to destroy the Union. He could not refrain from defending the dead, and the living too.

mon Council, or a majority of them, to have been disregarded, or directly or indirectly or indirectly or indirectly or indirectly or indirectly or indirectly or proscribe from any employment every person who went South "for the purpose of engaging in efforts to overthrow the government," and every person "who in any manner gave aid and comfort to the rebellion," and also every person who, while performing work for the city, discharged any person on account of color or because of the manner in which he voted or proposed to vote; and it is made the duty of the Mayor and all other officers to require of every contractor and every employee an oath that has not been guilty of any of these offences, which each is to be retained and placed on file; and then, "before any contract or engagement for work shall be completed." It must be presented to the two Boards of the City Council, and "shall not be linding until ratified by the said Boards."

Such are the provisions of law proposed in this remarkable bill, to which the undersigned will proceed to suggest his objections, pursuant to the instruction of the Board.

First. The bill is unnecessary because there is a less of the correction excellence from a lease the procession of the results.

Instruction of the Board.

First. The bill is unnecessary because there is no law of the corporation excluding from employment the class of persons in whose behalf this measure is proposed. That there is not now any exclusion "on account of color" is manifest in every section of the city where improved. now any exclusion "on account of color" is manifest in every section of the city where improvments are in progress, and that there was no such exclusion prior to the late election in attested by that portion of the bill which proposes to inflict the penalty of perpetual procription for dismissals from employment on account of the manner in which any person of rotor "may have exercived or proposed to exercise his right of witing."
The passage of the bill, therefore, could have no practical effect except so far as it might afford pretents for the oppression of one class of laborers in order to exalt another class. And, besides, as it does not appear that there has ever existed any law of exclusion from the right to labor, the passage of the bill would, by implication, falsify the legislative history of the city and reflect unjustly upon those to whom, in years pax, its interests have been committed.

Secondly. It would not be a wise or a just policy to attempt to legislate any class of people into public favor, and especially those whom this bil propose; thus to exalt. Their claims, as in the case of other persons, should reat on qualification and merit. Nor would the interest of any class o laborers already here be premoted by the propose depreclamations of exceptive offsers when advertising work. The difficulty no-

Mr. Elvans was in favor of reducing the two cents to one-and-alias from a reducing the two cents to one-and-alias from a tricking out the 11th section, and agreed to.

The next amendment was on striking out the 12th and (18th sections which was agreed to and they were amended.
